Dear friend,

Our city is now just a few weeks away from what will most certainly be a great sporting spectacle. With your support, and that of your teachers and students, I am sure that the Games will be an even greater success. Indeed, when Delhi's children join hands to take the message of the Commonwealth to their neighbourhoods and homes, their infectious enthusiasm is sure to spread. However, this will not be possible without the collective effort of visionaries such as yourself.

In the coming days, all schools must join hands with each other and make Shera Mera Dost an initiative to set the benchmark for other host countries to follow. Please do encourage your students to log on to Shera Mera Dost at www.delhitourism.gov.in and participate in the many contests that we have planned. Feel free to add your own creative ideas, of which I am sure there are plenty, to the programme.

There are attractive prizes to be won, and accolades for your students and school. Let our future leaders participate and become beacons of inspiration for all.

My officers from the Directorate of Education, the Department of Art, Culture & Languages and Delhi Tourism, will be available at all times to assist you in every manner.

It's time for all of us to earn our stripes with Shera!

Thank you very much and I wish you, and indeed all of us, the very best of luck.

Shera Mera Dost!

With warm regards,

Sheila Dikshit
