Dear Dr. Kutly,

National Institute of Financial Management (NIFM), an Autonomous Institute of Ministry of Finance, Government of India was set up in the year 1993 to professionalize Public Financial Management through education and training of executives at different levels in the government. The institute is presently engaged in conduct of various long-term and short-term programmes in addition to research and consultancy for the organizations within and outside the country. The institute has since blossomed into a Centre of Excellence in the areas of Public Financial Management, Financial Reporting, Accounting Standards, Procurement, IT and other related disciplines.

The Institute has designed a comprehensive programme for serving officers/managers of Government (including PSU's, Banks, Financial Institutes, Ports and other such institutes) and also from the Corporate Sector. It provides a common platform for participation of executives from Government, Public Sector and Private Corporate Sector for Professional networking, appreciation of work practices, value system and organizational culture of each other. The programme intends to build strong leadership and specific skill sets among the participants to face the challenges emanating from emerging economic and international business environment, public private partnership, corporate governance and public financial management. The delivery of the programme would take place through a dedicated pool of faculty drawn from academics, industry and civil services. The programme is duly recognized by the AICTE and has also been recognized as equivalent to Masters Programme in Management (MBA) by the Association of Indian Universities (AIU).

I enclose a copy of the brochure of the PGDM (FM) 2013-15 programme. The programme commencing on 06th May, 2013 comprises classroom teaching of 19 months and the Project Work of 05 months. While the segment of classroom teaching of 19 months is residential and the accommodation would be provided to the candidates as part of the programme fee, their stay for project work would be optional. The course fee of the programme is covered under the Central Plan Scheme of Ministry of Finance for development to finance professionals.

The programme also has an International Attachment of two week's to provide exposure to the best international practices in the field of Public Financial Management and Good Governance. To facilitate the international exposure, NIFM has collaborations with the International Institutions of repute such as International Centre for Promotion of Enterprises (ICPE), Ljubljana, Slovenia, Royal Institute of Public Administration (International), London, Manchester Metropolitan University (MMU), Manchester, Edinburgh Business School (EBS), Edinburgh and Asian Institute of Management, Philippines. The 2012-14 batch visited California University, Riverside Extension, Los Angeles, USA.
