ADVISORY ON INFLUENZA A H1N1 FOR SCHOOLS

Flu like illness can be caused by many different flu viruses. Influenza A H1N1 (Swine Flu) is a type of seasonal flu virus. Whereas most of these cases will be mild requiring no treatment, people with chronic medical conditions, adults more than 65 yrs of age, children under 5 yrs of age and pregnant women are at higher risk for acquiring severe illness.

The impact of seasonal influenza activity can be mitigated by simple public health measures such as frequent washing of hands, respiratory etiquette, avoiding crowded places and maintaining distance of an arm length from those affected from flu like symptoms. Informing the public to adopt these measures would be of help.

- Flu like illness can present as fever, cough, sore throat, head ache, body ache and in some cases in diarrhea and vomiting.
- Not every patient with flu like illness needs testing or specific antiviral treatment. Patients should consult doctor and follow advice.
- In case of mild flu like illness, it is recommended that contact with others may be limited as much as possible, to prevent transmitting infection to others.
- Take paracetamol in case of mild fever, drink plenty of fluid, eat nutritious food and take rest.
- Stay at home for atleast 24 hrs after fever is completely gone.
- Proper hand washing with soap and water and covering of nose and mouth while sneezing and coughing.
- Immediately consult a doctor in case of high grade fever and severe cough. Get yourself regularly checked by a doctor.

CATEGORIZATION OF PATIENTS

- Category A (patients with flu symptoms) neither require Oseltamivir nor testing
- Category B (patients with high risk) require only Oseltamivir. Testing is not required
- Category C (patients with danger signs) require Oseltamivir, testing and hospitalization

DANGER SIGNALS IN INFLUENZA INFLICTED INDIVIDUALS-

- Fever remains high
- Difficulty in breathing
- Coughing of blood stained sputum
- Altered behavior, incoherent speech
- Bluish discoloration of the skin & lips.
